ACADEMIC ELIGIBILITY

Registration does not ensure academic eligibility. As a USC student, you must obtain or maintain academic eligibility in accordance with the requirements of the University and the School or Department in which you are enrolled. Academic Disqualification will result in the revocation of registration, even if attendance in classes has already begun. In the event of such revocation of registration, 100 percent of any tuition paid for that semester will be refunded.

Your signature below indicates that you have read and agree with the above statement on academic eligibility. It further indicates that you understand University policies relating to Academic Probation and Disqualification.
